

PROFILE OF
DR. MARCOS A. ORELLANA (LL.M., S.J.D.)

Dr. Marcos A. Orellana (LL.M., S.J.D.) is Director of the Environment and Human Rights Division at Human Rights Watch.

A native of Chile, Marcos represented the eight-nation Independent Association of Latin America and the Caribbean (AILAC) in the negotiations of the Paris Agreement on Climate Change. He has also acted as legal counsel to the Chilean Ministry of Foreign Affairs on international environmental issues, such as the Rio+20 process leading to the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development.

Previously, Dr. Orellana directed the trade and sustainable development program at the Center for International Environmental Law (CIEL). He also was a visiting scholar with the Environmental Law Institute in Washington DC and a Fellow at the Lauterpacht Research Centre for International Law of the University of Cambridge, in the United Kingdom.

Dr. Orellana is also Adjunct Associate Professor at the George Washington University School of Law and lectured, at various times, at the University of Geneva, the University of Melbourne, and the University of Pretoria.

At one point, Dr. Orellana was legal advisor to several international institutions, including UN Environment and the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights.

Dr. Marcos A. Orellana, LL.M., S.J.D.